

[Q]. Mention what command line can be used to load data into Django?

To load data into Django you have to use the command line Django-admin.py load data. The command line will searches the data and loads the contents of the named fixtures into the database.